

Harvard R. Beal's Bait Scow

Vessel History

Harvard R. Beal's Bait Scow

Vessel Name: Harvard R. Beal's Bait Scow

Class: Bait Scow

Hull: Wood

Build Date: May have been inherited by Harvard Beal when he bought his fish wharf at Clark Point.

Named For: no name

Bait Scow: A boat-like barge - Paul Stubing referred them as a "concession in which fishermen kept gear and bait."

Stubing - Paul Timothy Stubing (1927-2011)

The scow originally had gas tanks on it and gas was pumped from it to boats. Very dangerous. -
Ralph Warren Stanley - 09/26/07

PDF: https://swhpl.digitalarchive.us/files/original/15840/Harvard\_R.\_Beal\_s\_Bait\_Scow.pdf

Identifier: 15840

Title: Harvard R. Beal's Bait Scow

Type: Reference

Subject: Vessels, Boat

Rights: In Copyright - Non-Commercial Use Permitted